Course overview

In this 1.5-day course, participants will learn how to maximise the potential of their virtual team. The course deals with the goal-oriented virtual leadership of teams, interactive and motivating cooperation and how projects can be successfully completed. Under the guidance of experienced trainers, participants learn which attitudes and behaviours are required to lead virtual teams - so that the team works effectively and the individual team members can develop further.

Course content

- ✓ What matters: performance, resilience and satisfaction as success criteria
- ✓ Strengthening personal responsibility and self-reflection in the team and taking the pressure off oneself
- ✓ Promoting psychological safety to create a constructive feedback culture
- ✓ Finding a common language and sharing knowledge with each other
- ✓ Understanding and overcoming hurdles in virtual communication

The course includes impulse lectures, individual and group exercises and practical examples. It focuses on exchange, reflection and working on your specific issues.
